

YOUR LATEST RESULTS

5-7: Do rewards encourage you?

7-11: Is giving rewards for voting a good idea?

This VoteTopic received 46,553 total votes.

THIS WEEK'S BIG QUESTIONS

5-7: Are fans an important part of a team?

7-11: Would it be better if fans owned UK football clubs?

- Are you a fan of a person or a team?
- What makes a great fan?
- Should fans help to make decisions about their teams?

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

- "FC United of Manchester [aims] to create a sustainable club for the long term which is owned and democratically run by its members, which is accessible to all the communities of Manchester." - FC United of Manchester Club Manifesto.
- "Getting to the Premier League is the ultimate goal – and staying in the Premier League so it's sustainable. But only doing it in a fashion that the community supports because there are all sorts of ways to succeed." - Rob McElhenney, co-owner of Wrexham A.F.C.

A CLOSER LOOK: A LEAGUE OF THEIR OWN

Before 1992, all the top football teams in England played in a different league called the First Division. The clubs wanted more control over their money and games, so they created the Premier League. The new league quickly gained millions of fans all over the world; investment from new companies meant that teams could afford to buy the most skilful players on the international market.

20 teams make up the Premier League, and every season three teams get relegated (sent down) to take part in the Championship instead. This means that teams from the Championship get the opportunity to move up to the Premier League if they reach the top of their league. Only six teams have always stayed in the Premier League: Arsenal, Chelsea, Everton, Liverpool, Manchester United and Tottenham Hotspur.

YOUR GUIDED READING QUESTIONS

- When was the Premier League started?
- Which league did most football teams play in before the Premier League was formed?
- Why did the Premier League become so popular?
- What does the word “relegated” mean?
- Which six teams have always been in the Premier League?

THIS WEEK'S OTHER NEWS STORIES

General Election 2024 announced

Prime Minister Rishi Sunak has said that the UK's next general election will take place on 4th July 2024. Once Parliament has been dissolved by the King, MPs will campaign locally and nationally to be re-elected by voters.

Teen selling Euros tickets for charity

Mitchell Carling, a 16-year old from Dundee, is selling his ticket to see Scotland vs. Germany in the Euros to raise money for charities that support children with autism and research the treatment of Type 1 diabetes.

Fireball fragments in fields?

Researchers have been searching the fields in Staffordshire for pieces of meteorite after a fireball was seen over the Midlands. People have been warned not to touch any fragments of the dark, glassy rocks with bare hands.

Life finds a way at Sycamore Gap

King Charles has been given the first seedling grown from the Sycamore Gap tree in Northumberland, which was illegally cut down in September. The shoots are being called a reminder of "much-needed hope" from nature.

For more news stories, check out CBBC Newsround, First News, The Week Junior and Simple Politics.